BANKS IN CANYON OPENED

BOTH BANKS IN CITY DO BIG BUSINESS

Local Institutions Are Among First to be Opened

GOLD IS RETURNED

Canyon's Banks Given Authority For Regular Business

The Banking Holiday which was started on March 2nd came to a close yesterday in Canyon, when both banks opened for their usual line of service to the community. Excepting for the huge amount of business handled by both banks yesterday, the day witnessed nothing unusual.

The fact that the Federal and State governments authorized both banks to open yesterday is considered a distinct compliment to both institutions. The local banks were opened at the same time as were the banks of Amarillo, Lubbock and other larger towns of the Panhandle. It is believed that practically all of the banks of the Panhandle section will be authorized to open by today or tomorrow.

When the telegrams came Tuesday authorizing the banks to open, the news spread rapidly through the business section, and merchants rejoiced that the banking holidays were at an end. Business improved yesterday over the city as a result of the people's being able to get the necessary cash for business transactions.

A considerable amount of gold was brought to the banks yesterday. However none of this gold had been withdrawn in recent months, as was the case in many sections of the United States. The gold was returned to the banks on account of the request made by President Roosevelt.

Federal authorities believe that confidence in the government has been restored during the banking holidays to such an extent that all banks will be allowed to continue their usual service to the public. While rules have been given to the institutions, none are so severe that they will interfere with the usual line of business in Canyon.

The only restrictions placed upon the Canyon banks by the government is that in cases of "unusual withdrawals of cash the banks are required to obtain affidavits concerning the intended use of the money." No such affidavits were required in Canyon. The people have learned of the severe penalty connected with hoarding which has been imposed by the government.

Rural Community Visits Planned By Chamber Commerce

A new plan of visits with the rural schools of the county at community gatherings, was begun last week by the Chamber of Commerce. Several Canyon people attended the play and school program at the Jowell School house Saturday night. A large crowd of people, filling the house to capacity, were present from Jowell and surrounding communities.

Canyon people are urged to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in visiting the community gatherings over the county, states Fred Wortham, secretary. Notices of the meetings are sent to the Chamber of Commerce office located in the court house. Under the plan just started, the invitation will be extended through the chamber of commerce to the citizens of Canyon. If you would like to join the visiting parties on trips over the county get in touch with the secretary.

Governor Reduces Fine of Frank Hays

Ouster Suit to Be Filed in District Court by Barker

Governor Miriam Ferguson reduced the fine of Frank Hays from $100 to $1, according to a telegram received Friday by Sheriff R. N. Barnett. A proclamation was received yesterday from the Governor's office to this effect.

Hays was charged by Sheriff Barnett with refusing to issue a search warrant in South Amarillo where he is Justice of the Peace. He was tried in County Court and found guilty by a jury which assessed a fine of $100. Appeal notice was not made before the end of the term, and the attorney for Hays took the case direct to Governor Ferguson, who reduced the fine.

Hays came to Canyon Monday and offered his check for $25.70 in payment of the fine and costs. The check is being held with the promise that the money will be brought here today for payment in full.

At the time the charge was filed against Hays, he filed his resignation as Justice of the Peace, but later filed a request for its withdrawal. The Commissioners Court has not acted upon either of these requests.

County Attorney J. D. Barker states that if Hays does not resign after having been found guilty and paid the fine, he will file ouster proceedings before District Judge Henry S. Bishop. It was Bishop who issued the search warrant at the request of the Sheriff, after Hays had refused to do so. If Judge Bishop sees fit, he may remove Hays from office, appoint his successor as Justice of the Peace until the August term of court in Canyon when the case would be tried.

Stock Creeks With Fish Program Made Chamber Commerce

Randall county's creeks will be stocked with fish during the coming year, according to a program adopted Monday by the Chamber of Commerce. Application blanks for fish may be had at the office of Secretary Fred E. Wortham at the court house. Word from the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission indicates that Randall county will be provided with all fish necessary to stock the creeks.

The movement was started by S. H. Condron, director of the local organization, who is greatly interested in the sport of fishing. He finds that Randall county has much living water in the creeks whoch have not been properly stocked with fish. The state and federal governments are both willing to furnish all of the fish necessary to stock the creeks, asking only the co-operation of the owners. Mr. Condron urges every land owner who has a creek on his place to make application at once for fish, as it will be highly profitable to those who have good fishing places.

Gulf Refining Co. Takes Lease of 5 Years on Station

Clyde W. Warwick has leased to the Gulf Refining Company for a term of 5 years, the corner of the garage building now occupied by the Canyon Motor Company.

A. C. West has the contract for remodeling the front of the building for a drive-in filling station.

Officers of the Gulf company considered the building for several months before closing the deal. Representatives were sent from the Houston office and a careful investigation was made of Canyon before the agreement was made.

ONE-ACT PLAY CONTEST HERE MARCH, 24-25

Interscholastic League To Sponsor Annual Meet High School Teams

13 TROUPES COMING

Winner Goes to Abilene, West Texas Section; Thence To Austin

A feature of the scholastic year will be held in the auditorium of the Education Building, March 24-25, when the Panhandle's best high school dramatic talent will be attracted here for the annual One-act Play contest, District One, sponsored by the Texas Interscholastic League.

Thirteen troupes have been entered for the contest, an increase of three over the number of high schools participating last year. Such an indication of increased interest warrants the belief that the degree of dramatic ability attained by the teams will have likewise improved.

The winner of the District One Center contest here goes to the regional contest, West Texas section, to be held at Abilene. With the State divided into four sections, the four winners compete at Austin late in the spring for state honors. Presentation of the four plays in one night forms one of the high-lights of the state Interscholastic League contests held there.

Teams now entered who will be W. T. visitors: Amarillo, Pampa, Canyon, Panhandle, Quitaque, Tulia, Dimmitt, Friona, Dumas, White

30 GALLONS OF BOOZE IN CAR STOPPED

One Man in Jail and One Escapes From the Officers

STATE MEN IN COP

Car Taken Was Stopped For Investigation by Patrolmen

Thirty gallons of liquor were taken from a car Monday afternoon when two men were arrested by two State Highway Patrolmen in the north part of the county and brought to Canyon. One of the men, W. D. Bostick, is being held in jail. The second man got away from the patrolmen while the car was being searched in Canyon.

The two patrolmen noticed the action of the men as they drove down the highway, and stopped the car. They were on the lookout for a stolen car. One of the officers got into the car with the men, and the other followed on his motorcycle. Arriving at Canyon, a gun was taken from one of the men. While one officer was taking the car and motor numbers, he thought the other officer was in charge of the two men, but as a crowd surrounded the car and officers, one of the men quietly walked through the crowd and escaped. The sheriff was not called until the patrolmen found that one of the men had escaped. A search was started by the entire police force, but the man made good his escape.

In the meanwhile, the patrolman who was searching the car discovered 30 gallons of whiskey, which is being held by the sheriff's department.

It is stated by the officers that the escaped man is a brother of the man in jail and that he is well known.

John Toles of Happy was a business caller in the city Monday.

Democratic Chairmen Organize on Tuesday

Resolutions Protest Any Change to be Made in W. T.

An organization of the Chairmen of the Democratic County Executive Committees of the 53 counties of the 18th Congressional district was perfected Tuesday afternoon at a meeting which had been called by A. M. Smith of this county. C. C. Gibson of Amarillo was elected president of the organization; T. R. Greenfield of Post was named vice-president; A. M. Smith of Canyon was elected secretary-treasurer.

Harwood Beville, chairman of the district, was present and urged a closer organization in each county of the district. He brought a message from Washington as to the organization which is being formed in the east with the purpose of keeping the Democratic party in power for years to come. Every county and precinct in the nation is to be completely organized and the principals of the Democratic party taught the voters. The formation of clubs of Young Democrats is urged thruout the district.

Clyde W. Warwick spoke on the wonderful progress that has been made at Washington since the inauguration of President Roosevelt; of his energy and ability in taking charge of national affairs, and the feeling of confidence which has come over the nation since he took charge. The days of action has restored confidence among the people. There is feeling that brighter days are at hand with an aggressive leader like Roosevelt.

Resolutions were adopted praising the Democratic state and national leadership; condemning the action of the Economy and Efficiency committee of the legislature in attempting to cripple the West Texas State Teachers College and the Texas Technological College of Lubbock; approving the leadership of Harwood Beville as district chairman; and urging the formation of clubs of Young Democrats; and thanking Canyon for the courtesies extended in the meeting.

A dinner was given following the meeting for those who were able to stay after the meeting.

Party regularity was stressed by various members. It was made

START MOVE RELICS INTO NEW MUSEUM

Basement Floor Finished and Building Is Completed

NEED MORE CASES

Dedication Time Set on April 14th—Pioneers Coming

Work on the floor of the new museum building of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society was completed Saturday, and the force of the Frank Litle Construction Company returned to the Amarillo headquarters.

L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the Society, started moving the display into the building Monday. The work will be continued as rapidly as the material of the Society can be arranged.

Mr. Sheffy stated yesterday that it looked like the building would be well filled with the material which is now on hand and which he is expecting to receive in the near future. The great need of the Society now is for more cases in which to display the material which is on hand. The payment of pledges which have not been collected in full would make it possible to build the necessary display cases, states Mr. Sheffy.

Plans are being made for the dedication of the building on April 14th. It is expected that many of the pioneers who have had such a great part in the erection of the building will attend this ceremony. In addition to the state appropriation of $25,000, there has been collected by Mr. Sheffy from the people of Northwest Texas nearly $30,000 for the building and equipping of this museum. Interest has been unusual in the building, owing to the fact that this is the only museum building owned by the State of Texas, and that the money for its erection was raised during the times of unusual depression.

WILL TRY GEO. MEYERS

George Meyers will be tried in Amarillo next week on the charge of car theft alleged to be committed in the north part of the county. Sheriff R. N. Barnett went to Oklahoma after him recently. The case was transferred from Randall to Potter county by Judge Bishop.

MARCH 27th IS NAMED AS SWAP DAY IN CANYON

Farmers Invited to Bring in Stock and Extra Machinery

AUCTION SALE AT 3:00

Swap Day to Offer Plenty of Bargains to Farmers

Canyon will have a Swap Day on Monday, March 27th.

Chamber of Commerce directors selected the date as being the most likely to meet the approval of the farmers of the county. On this day everyone who has anything to swap will be requested to bring it to Canyon. Swap headquarters will be located on the Lester lots north of the First National Bank.

Col. J. W. McCrerey will conduct an auction sale at 3:00 o'clock for those who have something to offer at public sale. The regular fee of 5% of the sales price will be charged in this auction, and farmers together with merchants are invited to enter articles which they do not wish to swap, but are anxious to sell.

It is planned to have a mule buyer in Canyon on that date so that farmers who have extra mules which they wish to dispose of may bring in their animals.

Those who will have articles to swap may carry them in the free column of next week's issue of the News, and then bring them to the Lester lots on March 27th.

Business houses are urged to offer special bargains for the day in order to make the swap day a real success.

Many Applications For Farm Loans in County Are Made

About 40 applications for farm loans have been made the past two weeks by the farmers of Randall county. The office of W. H. Upchurch has been handling these applications during the time that the banks were closed. The local committee composed of W. C. Black, T. C. Thompson and R. O. Allison have been sending the applications to the Dallas headquarters as fast as they are completed.

All loans must be approved by County Agent Upchurch before being forwarded to Austin.

Bill on Colleges Still in Committee

Dr. J. A. Hill Defends Teachers Colleges at Austin

Hearings on the House bill before the Texas legislative committee to reduce the rank of several colleges of the State were not concluded last night, according to a telegram received this morning from President J. A. Hill. The hearings started Monday night, and have continued through Tuesday and Wednesday nights. In this bill it was proposed to reduce the West Texas State Teachers College to the rank of a junior college.

Dr. Hill appeared before the committee to defend all of the Teachers Colleges of Texas. Dr. Hill outlined the specialized work of the Teachers Colleges, and the superior service these institutions are rendering to the common schools of Texas in furnishing highly qualified teachers. Dr. Hill stated that the teachers colleges were producing teachers better qualified than any of the colleges or universities of Texas who do not specialize in teacher training.

J. O. Guleke of Amarillo, member of the State Board of Education, appeared before the committee Monday night and championed the bill as he has in other public statements and speeches.

The University of Texas and A. & M. College authorities will be heard tonight at the committee meeting in Austin.

Senator J. W. Reid telephoned last night from Austin that he was well pleased with the prograss of the hearing and expressed the opinion that no drastic action would be taken against the colleges.

THE CAUSE OF EDUCATION

On this page is printed a cartoon from the Washington Herald. It clearly depicts the serious condition which is confronting the educational system of the nation today. It shows that legislative bodies have a choice to make, as between cheap politics and common sense, and points out what is at the end of both roads.

Three statements in the public press of Friday and Saturday show clearly the big questions which are in the public mind. Are we going to sacrifice all of the cultural values of education for the dollar's sake, or will common sense win in keeping the schools working not only for the benefit of the youth of today, but also for the generations unborn?

The first statement was a letter in the Dallas News written by a member of the present legislature condemning state employes who protested a reduction in their salaries. The legislator had a right to protest, and has a right to vote for a reduction of the state's running expenses. The people expect it, and demand it. But it was not necessary for this legislator to condemn the schools of Texas, especially the Teachers Colleges. The Board of Regents for Teachers Colleges, together with the presidents of these institutions agreed with Governor Ferguson in December that a 25% reduction of expenses was necessary, and therefore agreed to meet this reduction.

Now comes a second statement, in The Texas Weekly over the name of Dale Miller who condemns the Teachers Colleges for making such an agreement. Because these colleges were patriotic in trying to help the taxpayers out of a tight place, this writer challenges the whole system of teacher training. Mr. Miller, being a product of the University of Texas, and his publication being the voice of the sulphur and other big interests of Texas, sees no need for teacher training. It is really pitiful to see the tool of the big interests of Texas attempting on the one hand to hold up the standards of education in Texas, and with the other hand striking down the very institutions in Texas which by providing improved teachers for the common schools, are solely responsible for the improvement in the common school system of Texas. We have heard nothing from these high minded reformers in educational lines suggesting that the clinics in the medical school, the engineering shops, or the court room of the law school be abolished for the sake of a few dollars. The News believes that it would be just as sensible to make the lawyer, the doctor or the engineer learn his trade from a text book and put him out to practice, as it is to say that we shall turn out teachers for the youth of this land without giving them special preparation in institutions equipped for this purpose and manned by people who know something about teacher training and who know the needs of the common schools of this state. The real trouble is that the teacher training institutions are turning out such successful teachers that other institutions, which are turning out people not so fully trained, are heading the protest against the teacher training institutions. This gives those in Texas who do not wish to pay their part of the taxes an opportunity to set up the loudest cry against the teacher training institutions. This gives the tax dodger an alibi to charge that education comes too high. He refuses to inspect the state's ever mounting tax bill caused by ignorance on the part of too many people of the state, but pours out his wrath on the institutions which are doing the most to improve law enforcement and cultural conditions in Texas.

The third statement comes from the world's highest paid editorial writer, Arthur Brisbane, who praises the school system of California. Incidentally a report on the California system was published last fall in which 108 recognized educators made a close investigation of the system and printed recommendations. In these recommendations is one that the seven Teachers Colleges of California shall issue Masters Degrees. Two different committees in Texas, both employing only one man without educational prominence, severely condemned the practice of issuing Masters Degrees in Teachers Colleges in Texas, condemned the laboratories in these institutions, and would reduce all to the status of junior colleges. Teacher training would be wiped out, because these men, without educational prominence, believed that the state could save some money. But here is how Arthur Brisbane summed up in the concluding paragraph the educational situation in California:

"Admirable are the University of California and all the fine public schools of that intelligent state.

"It is to be hoped that California will set a good example to other states, refusing to let any part of the 'economy program' interfere with educational efficiency. For the formation of the 'practical-minded' it may be mentioned that California's university pays for itself and will pay 10 times over.

"Work done in its laboratories has increased by more than $25,000,000 the yearly income of California dairies. Such work saves citrus orchards, improves cultivation and irrigation methods, creates a better human race. The State that has the best education will remain at the head of the procession and the wisest line among the old Talmudic writings is this one: 'Jerusalem was destroyed because the schools were neglected.'

"Fine highways are admirable, and great public buildings. But nothing is important when compared to universities and public schools, their faculties and teachers.

"On them the future depends."

Can Texas afford to wreck its educational system in times like these when education and culture are more to be desired for its people than at any other period? Those in Texas who see beyond the present economic difficulties believe that common sense will prevail, and that the educational system will not be wrecked by those in authority.

In its 1932 report to the Superintendents' Convention of the National Education Association, the Committee on School Costs said:

"Our social heritage, our democratic form of government, and our present industrial civilization alike demand a continuously effective school system.

"Crippling the schools through unwise retrenchment, therefore, means an irreparable loss to American childhood, a lowering of national standards of culture, health and efficiency, and a dangerous attack on the soundness of our democratic institutions."

SANITY AGAIN PREVAILS

(Reprint from Houston Chronicle, March 10, 1933)

The Texas senate has done the proper thing in refusing to eliminate eight state teachers colleges. The Chronicle has contended consistently for a reorganization of state higher education in Texas, and it hailed the recommendations of the legislative committee on economy and organization with interest. But it has come to the conclusion that now is no time for the legislature to attempt a sweeping reorganization of these colleges, even though the plan offered seemed a sound one, since the atmosphere at Austin is not now conducive to constructive and unbiased effort in behalf of education.. We ought not to remake any of our fundamental institutions while abnormal fears and hysterias prevail.

But aside from that, The Chronicle has come to the conclusion that the plan to eliminate the teachers colleges is itself bad. These colleges have much more to say for themselves than seems to have been said. Gradually they are getting their case before the public, but the attraction of public interest at a time like this is very difficult. They need more time to reach the public ear.

Spokesmen for these colleges make out a good case. They have the facts to show how they serve the youth of the sections in which they are located. They can convince you that these youth would not otherwise be served; that talk of diverting them to central institutions is vain.

In fact, they convince you that the Griffenhagen experts who wrote the recommendation now before the legislature paid no more attention to Texas sentiment and Texas psychology and Texas realities in framing their views concerning the colleges than they did in telling us what to do about the Confederate home for women, or about the Texas highway system.

The friends of the Texas teacher colleges should be given a more extensive hearing before the people of Texas. The legislature may well require severe economies of their institutions at this time, but sweeping changes, if any are to be made, should be left to the future.

WHO OWNS THE MONEY?

Why place money in the banks? It belongs to the individual who owns it, therefore why not let him hoard it as he sees fit? The United States government has demanded that all gold belonging to the people be returned to the banks at once. Banks are required to report any persons whom they know to possess gold.

This brings up a number of questions. Without doubt, the money itself is the property of the government; its use is for the people. The banks being under government supervision are agents of the government. Property values in Canyon, in Texas, in the United States depend upon the security of the government back of the money in circulation. It is likewise true that property values are dependent upon the security of the government's agents, the banks.

Money hoarded does no one any amount of good; but placed in banks where it may be loaned to individuals worthy of loans and who have ample security to replace it under the terms of contract, this money is doing the individual owner, the community, the state and the nation a real service.

The United States government took charge of the banking situation for the purpose of demanding that hoarded money be returned to circulation, and millions of dollars which had been withdrawn from circulation has been returned to the banks. It is hoped that the crisis has passed; that the people will realize that their government is secure, that its money is good; and that the safest place for their money is in the banks where it is safe from fire and robbers and where it is working for the upbuilding or the community, the state and the nation.

If you did not hear President Roosevelt speak Sunday night over the radio, get a daily newspaper of Monday; read his message which will convince you that America is safe, that the banks are safe, that we shall overcome this depression.

Emergencies bring out the best in men, and make them forget their self-importance. Feature legislatures of the various states making dictators; and the United States government handing over dictatorial powers to the the President who had been in office only six days! Under ordinary conditions congress would have debated this question for months, and never passed the bill. It shows that in a crisis our public leaders are willing to put public safety above self.

Ex-Governor Jim Ferguson and Banking Commissioner James Shaw have been political enemies for years, yet since March 3rd when the banking holiday was declared in Texas, the two have been working shoulder to shoulder for the benefit of Texas. Political enmity is usually a hunk of baloney; more in the mind than in the hearts of men, and easily overcome.

The quick action of President Roosevelt in taking charge of national affairs is meeting with universal approval. No commissions are being appointed to waste months of time and millions of dollars. Roosevelt may make some mistakes, but we are at least going to have the mistakes made in a hurry and get over with them.

Governor Ferguson has signed the bill exempting from paying the chauffer's license farmers whose trucks do not use the highways. This is good news to Panhandle farmers. Governor Sterling vetoed this bill in two different sessions of the 42nd legislature.

Most of those who talked the loudest about the inconvenience of the banks being closed were the ones with only a few cents or few dollars on deposit. The ones with money were glad that their money was safely locked up until conditions became more favorable.

The people of America express sympathy to California in the terrible tragedy of Friday when many were killed and wounded and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed by the earthquake.

Some newspapers spell it "scrip" while others spell it "script." Both ways seem to be correct, but the former preferable.

Madrigal Club Is Preparing Program April Presentation

Reminding W. T. lovers of vocal rendition of last year's appearance here, comes the announcement of a program now being prepared by the Madrigal Club to be given the latter part of April. Prof. Wallace R. Clark is conductor.

This year's program will consist of two parts—the first representing the very early Madrigals, and the second, the more modern examples. Both, however, will be done in the pure Madrigal style. A soloist has not yet been chosen for an assisting number.

The club has in its possession the greatest known collection of Madrigal numbers, obtained a few years ago from the Chicago Madrigal Club of which Mr. Clark was once a member as was also Mr. Clippinger, guest conductor last year.

Don't do it today unless you are sure of being satisfied with it tomorrow.

GOOD ELECTRIC SERVICE

GOOD ELECTRIC SERVICE means service which is supplied in unlimited amount,—supplied always at the proper voltage for your need,—supplied the customer without interruption regardless of weather conditions.

GOOD ELECTRIC SERVICE can only be had through the installing of the most dependable plant and line equipment which can be bought,—all coordinated with the efficient and willing operations of the Texas Utilities Company employees which you receive daily.

Lines can be torn down by electrical storm, tornado or blizzards,—generating plants can "drop off" the lines in emergencies, but your electric service goes right on. It's there when you push the button—because our experience has taught us to provide for such troubles.

And what is the value of GOOD ELECTRIC SERVICE? It is something intangible,—it's value can not be reckoned in dollars and cents. It can be worth an unlimited amount in an emergency,—probably thousands of dollars.

We know this,—it can be had for about 10 cents a day in the average sized home.

The COUNTY The COLLEGE And CANYON

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

FRED E. WORTHAM, Secretary

A problem of much importance faces the citizens of Canyon for the next year, or possibly the next two years. To solve this problem it will require the co-operation of every individual. Because of the heavy fire losses in Canyon during the past year we have lost our good fire record. Those in a position to know estimate that it will cost the city, additional fire insurance premiums, $3,000 or more during this year.

If there has been a "fire bug" in Canyon during the past 12 or 18 months, it is high time that such is removed from our midst. Members and officials of the fire department have been doing their best to prevent fires and heavy fire losses, but despite their well directed efforts, it has been beyond their control to keep these losses at a minimum.

Canyon will do well to get behind the officials of the fire department and give them every co-operation possible. Now, as never before, our city needs a campaign on fire prevention. Not one week out of 52, but 52 weeks in every year do we need to consider fire prevention, in order to regain our good fire record credit. The additional premiums on fire insurance made necessary by the loss of the credit will cost the property owners more money in 1933 than it will cost to operate the Chamber of Commerce in the same length of time.

The Chamber of Commerce is now housed in new quarters. The location is a permanent one, thanks to the county judge and commissioners court of Randall county. Our new location in the southwest part of the court house is indeed an ideal one.

The organization is grateful for the kindness of County Agent W. H. Upchurch, who has generously shared his office with the Chamber of Commerce for more than a year. Coming to the rescue of the organization when it had no location, he offered office space and some equipment for use by it, until such future time as some other location could be arranged for.

Officials and members feel indebted to him for his services and assistance he has been ever ready to render.

During the financial crisis thru which we are passing, and which all of us hope, has just about passed, the merchants, with few exceptions, in our city have indeed been accomodating and liberal with credit, because of the lack of cash. In the meantime expenses have accumulated with them, wholesale bills piled up, all of which must be met just as soon as the channels of finance are opened.

The only patriotic thing to be done is for all citizens who have been so benefitted to express their appreciation by meetin gthe obligations with retail mercnants just as rapidly as possible. The merchants have been considerate with the individuals. Now comes the time when the merchant needs the consideration of the individual.

The Chamber of Commerce shall appreciate any co-operation and assistance which may be given in making its program of visits to rural communities in Randall county during the coming few months. This county as a whole needs to know each other better. The only way this can be accomplished is by visiting together. The communities are inviting us to come out, let's go and let them know we appreciate their invitation.

CONQUERING HEROES RETURN AFTER TWO WINS K. C. MEET

Eliminated In Quarter-Final Thursday Night By Champions

FAST COMPETITION

Fortenberry Stars In All Games But Not Named All-American

Advancing to the quarter finals with a bye in the first round and victories over the Alva, Okla., Teachers in the second and tne Warrensburg, Mo., Teachers in the third round, West Texas' favorite sons fell before the enslaught of the Wichita Henry's in the fourth round last Thursday night to be eliminated in the National A. A. U. Tournament held at Kansas City.

It was a heartbreaking loss, both to the Buffaloes, conceded a fair chance to win the tourney, and West Texas fans who had let their hopes be fanned to winning pitch by the two previous victories.

The Buffaloes returned to the Campus last night after an uneventful trip from Kansas City.

A victory over the last year championship Henry's, over whom the Buffs held a game won in exhibition play and who were later eliminated by the Tulsa Diamond Oilers, winners of the tournament, would have put the W. T. aces in the semi-finals. However, reaching the quarter-finals is no mean accomplishment and the W. T. Campus swells with pride at what may well be considered a commendable showing. Competition was keener than ever before with the best aggregations ever collected appearing at the tourney.

The Henry's, playing a better brand of basketball than they exhibited here last month, were never pressed in ousting the Buffaloes. They led by 20 to 9 at the end of the first half. The Champions offset the height advantage of Fortenberry and his tall mates with a cold, calculated offense led by Grove, who scored fifteen points. In the second half the Buffaloes failed to get their eyes trained to the basket and the Henry's carried the day without danger to their lead.

"College Joe" Fortenberry, Buffalo center and captain reckoned a possible berth on an All-American quintet, failed to gain that recognition. An Associated Press team named for All-American honors was composed of members of teams ranking one, two, three in the finals.

The Henry-Buffalo box score:

Wichita Henry's (37)	FG	FT	PF	TP

First half score: Henry's 20; West Texas 9.

Ex-Student Dies Saturday After Period Sickness

Canyon friends were advised Sunday of the death of Miss Vivian Coffman which occurred at Albuquerque, New Mexico, Saturday, following an operation which was performed a few weeks ago in the hope that recovery from a prolonged illness might result.

Miss Coffman received her B. A. degree here with the class of '25, and during her senior year was considered one of the most outstanding members of the student body. Aside from assisting in the office of the registrar, she was an active member of the Elapheian Literary Society, served most efficiently as president of the Y. W. C. A., and was a member of the Prairie staff.

Following her graduation, she accepted a position as teacher of English in the high school department of the Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville. For two years prior to 1924-25 she served as a member of the Canyon public school faculty.

Would You Do This With Milk?

When the milk man brings the morning's milk, do you at once step to the sink and pour out a portion of it? Certainly not!

THEN WHY WASTE NATURAL GAS?

The various gas cocks, fittings and piping on your premises may not be gas tight and can frequently waste a large amount of gas in a year through leakage.

With the Bunsen type of blue flame burner, a showing of red or yellow in the flame is an indication of imperfect combustion and therefore waste.

Rooms are more healthful if kept at about 70 degrees F., with proper humidity, yet much gas is wasted by keeping room temperatures higher.

Heat radiated into furnace rooms from the furnace, the furnace piping, and hot water and steam piping does not enter the room that is to be heated and therefore is wasted. Proper insulating of furnace piping will greatly curtail this loss. In any gas heating device the temperature of the combustion products where they go into the chimney has an important bearing on heat loss.

Improper adjustment of appliances resulting in imperfect combustion is a waste.

Water that precipitate scale or sediment will frequently build up a thick coating on the inside of the water heater over point of flame contact and greatly increase the amount of gas necessary to heat the water.

Turning on gas to a point where the flame goes over the top in open top space heaters wastes gas.

While we can not regulate the amount of gas that you use, we do urge you to take care that your consumption does not exceed your actual needs. Satisfied customers constitute our best asset. They are worth more to us than any revenue derived from gas which is wasted.

Crude Pistols Fail in Jail Break

With these makeshift pistols, which they had made in prison with their own hands and tools, two convicts, Marty Colson and Lloyd Sampsell, made a desperate attempt to escape from Folsom prison, in California. The jailbreak failed, and Colson committed suicide with one of these guns. Sampsell surrendered. Prison Secretary Barney Huse, left, and Warden Court Smith are shown with the crude weapons, fashioned from pipe fittings, pieces of steel, etc., from the prison quarry. Some of the bullets used were homemade.

Give the Job to Phillips 66 Get MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

"HIGHEST TEST" at the price of ordinary gasoline

You see in this cartoon one of the most sensational facts ever presented in any gasoline advertisement.

If you wonder why we sell this super-volatile gasoline at the same price as ordinary motor fuel . . . just remember that Phillips is able to give this greater value, because Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline.

You pay less for it, because we make more of it.

Day in and day out, cold weather and warm, you will actually feel the difference it makes in your engine—more power, pep, and pick-up. More miles and sweeter running. On every score, from instant starting to reduced crankcase dilution, this outstanding gasoline always delivers outstanding performance.

Phillips 66 is honest high test; that's why! Right now its gravity ranges from 65.6° to 80.5°. This gives it 78% more volatility than any other leading gasoline.

And every gallon you buy is matched to your weather by CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, the climax of all Phillips achievements.

We ask you to stop for a trial tankful the very next time you see the Orange and Black 66 shield . . . because we give you facts and figures in place of confusing claims . . . because seven million experienced drivers have been won to it solely on merit . . . because you get higher test and anti-knock without paying a penny of higher price. And while you're at the Phillips Service Station, why not drain and refill with instant-flowing Phillips 66 Motor Oil, the perfect partner of instant-starting Phillips 66 Gasoline!

Phillips 66

What is CONTROLLED VOLATILITY?

Everyone knows that weather affects ordinary gasoline, that temperature affects engine performance. Obviously the weather cannot be controlled; so Phillips insures perfect performance by CONTROLLING the VOLATILITY of the gasoline. Phillips pioneered this scientific method of matching gasoline to driving conditions. Always, it makes full allowance for differences caused by climate and geographical location. Whatever any engine in any city needs, to attain maximum efficiency and ideal performance under its climatic conditions, is exactly what Controlled Volatility puts into Phillips 66.

Living in Fools' Paradise Subject for Cook's Talk

Harris M. Cook talked at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Tuesday on "Living in a Fools' Paradise." Dr. Cook described conditions under which we have been living, and the promises made for an economic recovery. Now he is willing to believe that we have reached the point of recovery. Conditions will not be as in the past, however, when recovery is reached.

The talk of President Roosevelt Sunday night renewed the confidence of the people. He believed the people of the United States left like the speaker did last summer when the boat in which he was fishing in the Gulf of Mexico became disabled and drifted through the night. When the morning came he found aid near at hand and his party was soon taken to land. The people of the United States are beginning to feel that help is at hand and that they will soon find a safe landing.

Mr. Cook believes that the scrutiny of the college affairs in Texas will only make the colleges better and stronger, and of greater service to the people. He predicted a great future for Rotary, especially through the work with the boys of the community.

J. H. Cox Jr. was in charge of the program.

Visitors present were Harvey W. Allen and Robert W. Burton of Amarillo.

He's Taking No Chances

What with all these auto accidents you read about nowadays, one can't be too careful the way one handles one's juggernaut, this young Londoner reasons. So it isn't the proximity of the law that makes him wait so patiently for the bobby's "go" signal. He just doesn't want to take the chance of running into some pedestrian and barking the victim's shins.

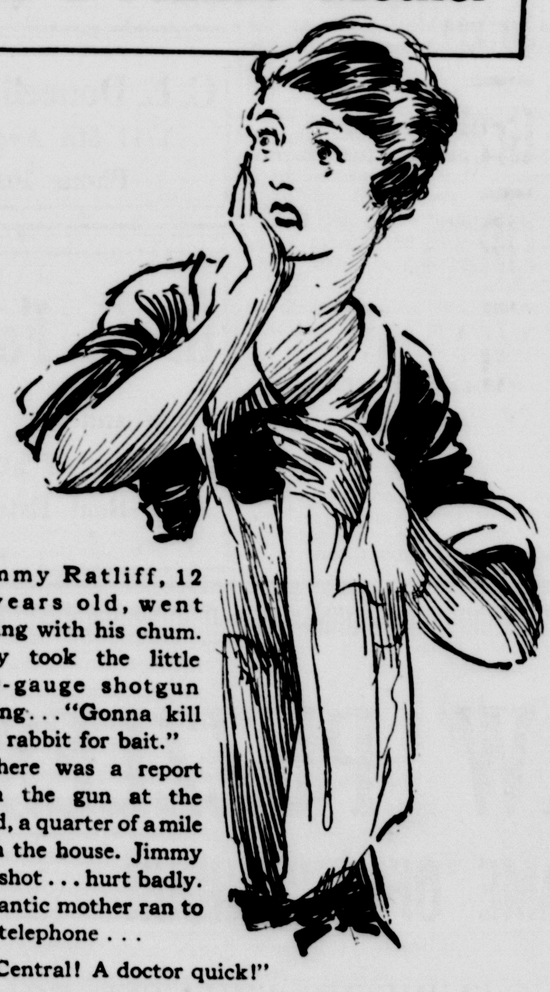
"Central" sends help to a Frantic Mother



Jimmy Ratliff, 12 years old, went fishing with his chum. They took the little .410-gauge shotgun saying . . . "Gonna kill us a rabbit for bait."

There was a report from the gun at the pond, a quarter of a mile from the house. Jimmy was shot . . . hurt badly. A frantic mother ran to the telephone . . .

"Central! A doctor quick!"

Lucy Adams, at the switchboard, called the doctor's office. He wasn't in. She rang the telephone at his home, and he wasn't there. She tried the cafe, and located him. Within five minutes the doctor was speeding toward the Ratliff home.

The little boy was weak when the doctor arrived. He dressed the wound . . . sent Jimmy to the hospital. The boy is out playing again now.*

THE EAGLE'S TALE

VOLUME NO. 7 CANYON, TEXAS MARCH 16, 1933. NUMBER 23

Cactus Cal

Wal, folks I guess spring is really here, but you needn't be too shure, cause sometimes it gits cold enough around Easter to kill pretty near all the gardens and fruit trees. This here is most nigh the dog-gondest country I ever saw. Out in Wyomin' and Montany it stays cold a long time, but when it turns warm it really stays warm. No how I guess Texas is alright if you like just any kind uv weather and lots of sandstorms and no rain.

Nearly everybody was a talkin' last week about some Buffaloes up in Kansas City. They allowed as how some Henrys give em a lickin'. Oncet there was a Lion out in Wyomin' and Luke killed him, and didn't nobody raise a rough house bout that. They was glad Luke killed it even. They didn't go round all droopy lookin' and nearly sick.

Them girls I wrote about last week shure did mind me well or somethin'. That was plumb nice of you all, I do say. Now just keep bein' a good sport like that an' everybody will like you fine.

Say, did any of you see this here red headed boy and that girl that wears specks last Monday? Well, they was just plumb up in a corner of the buildin' just arguin' to beat six bits. I'd shure hate to hear of any trouble but it shure looked like they was a havin' it. That boy would lean up to the wall and look like he was a squallin' or sumpin; then they would laugh it off.

Do you suppose these banks is a gonna open. I shure hope they do. Don't know what I'll do about this last seven years earnin's if they don't.

Ain't none of you all left any questions fer me to answer yit. If you got any jist leave em with that good lookin' English teacher. She used to kinda like me, so maybe she will give em to me.

Alright then, boys and girls, be good till next week anyway.

Randall County School Exhibit, March 24 and 25

The Randall County Rural School meet will be held March 24-25, at the Canyon High School building.

The purpose of the meet is to exhibit the work of each school and have both literary and athletic contests between the rural schools. Virgil E. Dodson, principal of the Jowell School, will have charge of all exhibits.

Each year heretofore the exhibits have been arranged according to the schools, but this year the exhibits will be conducted on a subject basis. All art exhibits will be together, all arithmetic, etc. Much interest is being shown toward this county meet, and from all indications there is a keen rivalry between all the school in regard to this meet.

The public is cordially invited to view the works of these schools. Work of this kind is very valuable because it gives the public an opportunity to see the structure of school work being done.

Birthday Party Given, Honoring Estill Furlow

Estill Furlow celebrated his fourteenth birthday on Friday evening, March 10, at his home, where games were played.

Tasty refreshments were served to Anna Kathryn Overton, Wesley Cox, Kate Eileen Donnell, Jack Neil Jennings, Odell Miller, Edmond Cabe Leslie Lisle, Mildred Clounch, Lecy Mae Furlow, Elston Campbell, George Mayfield, Phillip Whitman, Overton Donnell, Verline Furlow, and the honoree, Estill Furlow.

Who's Who

Mr. Milton Kiker, one of the high school janitors, was born in Alabama, but his family moved to McClelland county, Texas, when he was three years old. After staying for some time, they moved to Erath county where he went to school. He lived in Erath county until six years ago when he moved to Canyon.

For two years Mr. Kiker has been janitor of the Canyon schools. He likes the work very much, better than either farming or the carpenter's trade, and he does quite a good job of it, too. He likes to keep busy and says that he needs no recreation.

He enjoys music and plays the organ and piano himself. His wife and six children all play some instrument. The happiest days of his life, Mr. Kiker says, were those when all the children were at home and formed an orchestra. His children are all married now and he has eight grand children.

He is a member of the Methodist church.

Elections Held For High School King and Queen

Special meetings of the four classes of the high school were held Monday afternoon to elect a queen and king to represent each class. A campaign is to be held to elect the king and queen of the school. Each vote will be 1c.

The senior class elected for their queen Margery Tankersley, and for their king, Austin Cone. The campaign managers for these candidates are Joe Collins and Zudie Mae Bible. The motto "Tonight we launch; where shall we anchor?" was chosen by the class. The sweet pea was chosen as the class flower.

The junior queen will be Athalie Overton, and the king, Alton Brasuel. Robbie Foster was chosen as their campaign manager.

The sophomores chose Mabel Schmitz for their queen, and Kenneth Black for their king. It was decided to have a picnic soon, and a committee was appointed to plan the outing.

Rubie Guthrie and Jack Taylor will represent the freshman class in the coming campaign. The class also discussed plans for a freshman picnic.

High School Work Is a Real Job

There is a tendency to look upon school as being something less than regular employment in its demands upon the time and efforts of pupils. Too often the time and effort given high school work is less than that given regular employment with the result that high school achievements are less than they should be. The source of this difficulty in high school is the belief that high school work can be done during the school day and without any outside study.

The actual time spent in school is six hours per day or thirty hours per week of five days. Those of high school age who leave school to take up other employment must work approximately forty hours per week. Satisfactory high school work can hardly be done in less than this amount of time, but that means finding ten hours each week for outside study in addition to the thirty spent in school. Very frequently the difference between unsatisfactory and satisfactory high school work is found in the amount of outside study. It is the opinion of the Ohio High School standards that satisfactory high school work takes as many hours per week as the average out-of-school job. Those concerned with this question of the proper amount of time to be given high school work can get helpful information from either of the following sources: (1) ask any group of high school graduates what they would advise; or (2) take a group of high school pupils doing successful work and find out how much time per week they are giving to their high school studies.

Successful high school work calls for as many hours per week as the average out of school job, and this means a substantial amount of outside study.

Canyon Seniors Make Good College Records in 1931-32

According to the annual report published by the Association of Colleges in Secondary Schools of the Southern States, the highest accredited agency in the south, the graduates of Canyon High School have a very excellent record for 1931-32. The percentage of subject failures of this class for the first quarter of freshman work is 5.9%. The average for the State is 13. This makes the local high school rank above a big majority of class A high schools in the State. 36 of the 42 graduates enrolled in College. Inasmuch as practically the entire class was enrolled in college, this makes the low percentage of failures much more significant than figures would indicate.

The average high school in the Panhandle sends from 4 to 8 of its pupils to College, and these few are usually the better students of the school. Since in Canyon practically all of the class enroll for college work, one would naturally expect a greater percentage of failures. This same high standard has been held by Canyon High School for the last four years. The present members of the high school, as well as all of the ex-students, are very proud of this lofty record.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

Faculty meetings in Canyon Public Schools this year have been outstanding, both in the serious study by all teachers, and in the presentation of the various subjects. The writer of this article has attended faculty meetings in several different school systems but never before has he observed the serious, professional attitude that prevails here; it is an excellent sign that the teachers are aware of the problems in Canyon, both from a community and school standpoint.

At the last regular meeting, held at night and extending over some two hours, the subject of "School Finance" was discussed. Through the medium of charts, graphs, and talks, the teachers studied the situation, from the national to the local standpoints. Some significant figures presented here were: In 1930 the amount expended in the United States for education was $2,015,768,177, while for automobiles we spent $11,817,700,000. Also the budget for the year was analyzed and the teachers discussed the plan of the Board of Education for reducing the budget next year, so as to bring about a reduction in taxes. Along with this the fact was noted that fixed costs for retiring bonds, etc., increase next year; (while valuations are lower. This reduction in evaluations makes the drastic cuts seem less than they really are.

All in all it is felt that the teachers of your public schools are as keenly aware and as fully sympathetic of the local situation, as any body of men and women could be.

Scouts Celebrate National Birthday

From March 12 to the 19, National Girl Scout Week is celebrated all over the nation. This is the 21st birthday American Scouts have known.

The first Canyon High School Troop was organized in 1928 under the direction of Dorothy Burrows Neblett.

Her work was followed up by Estelle O'Donald in 1929. There were about fifteen enrolled in the troop at this time. They adopted a small house by Mr. Plaster for their scout house. The walls were calcimined and divided up into patrol corners. The three patrol leaders were Katye Lowe, Armor Lee Greenfield and Mary Ella Lowe.

The following year, Lois Goodrich assumed the leadership and the meeting place was moved to Cash's garage. The number of Scouts increased to about thirty. In the summer of 1931, Ethleen Murrell assisted in Miss Goodrich's place while she was a counselor at a New York camp. Miss Murrell directed the first camp the Thistle Troop had. This was held in Ceta canyon for three days. On the return of Miss Goodrich, Miss Murrell assisted her in directing.

In 1931-32, the Scouts occupied a small room in the court house. Two Courts of Awards were held. At one, Miss Mary White, a National Girl Scout Camp director, presented the badge and presented a series of moving pictures in Camp Mary White. In the summer of 1932 the Scouts went to Ceta canyon for a five day camp. Those assisting Miss Goodrich were Adaline Strain Barker, Arline Wilson and Ala Mae Wilson. About thirty five girls attended this camp. Mrs. Barker directed the work the remainder of the summer.

The Scouts at present are meeting in an apartment donated to them by the Palace Hotel. The enrollment is about fifty girls. They are making plans for a large camp in the summer.

Chapel

Did you see Mary Lee West, Athalee Overton, Dora Mae Plaster, Armor Lee Greenfield, Mable Schmitz, Wilma Harris and Velma Crawford sporting gold basketballs Thursday? That was the results of the chapel program Wednesday, when Miss Smith presented six girls with basketballs. After this presentation the science club assisted by the band, presented a program. Kathryn Robinson talked about Pasteur. Hampton Lisle, Robert Orton and Jack Barnett demonstrated a few first aid bandages. The program closed with the band playing and the assembly singing the school song.

If everything seemed to go to pieces, or if you should be run over by a train there'd be nobody handier to have around than one of those jig-saw puzzle fiends.

Collins and Stroud Win Lubbock Debate Tournament Sat.

Joe Collins and Ogden Stroud won the boys finals in the Lubbock Debate Tournament held March 10. The boys were awarded a permanent loving cup, which is now in the trophy case of C. H. S.

Armor Lee Greenfield and Robbie Foster debated Ralls, Olton, and Littlefield. Kathryn Robinson and Laura Fern Brian debated Littlefield and Lubbock B. team. Marvin Calliham and Bob Black debated Olton and Lubbock B. team.

Bob Orton won second in the extemporaneous speaking contest. Mary Ella Lowe being the only girl contestant did not compete.

While in Lubbock all of the teams visited Texas Technological College. One building they found of great interest was the textiles building where they were shown the different processes of weaving different materials.

Miss Murrell, Sewell Cox and Rev. Hudson took the teams to Lubbock.

Tournament For Tennis Coming Here April 14-15

The District One Tennis and Golf Tournament will be held in Canyon April 14 and 15. This part of the District meet will be held before the District Track and Field meet because of the conflicting qualities of each.

This is the first year golf has been included in the Interscholastic League meets. It is supposed that it will become a favorite item of competition in future years. The tournament will be held this year at the Canyon Country Club.

The freshman class enjoyed a St. Patrick party in the high school gymnasium Tuesday night, March 14. Jig-saw puzzles and other games furnished the entertainment. Refreshments of ice cream and shamrock cookies were served to about thirty-five guests.

In former years, pupils used to bring teacher a big red apple. The wise ones nowadays bring a sandwich.

How Far We Walk When At School

Have you ever wondered how far a high school student walks in a day? Even if you ride to school, have lunch at school, and ride home after school, you walk over one-half mile per day, or over two thousand steps.

This estimate is based on an average program with two study halls, one class on the third floor, and three classes on the second. The average student climbs up and down the stairs at the end of the hall which lead to the third floor three times every day. He goes to the locker room when he arrives, before noon, afternoon, once at some other time during the day, and before he leaves school. There are 24 steps in these flights of stairs and two landings.

He goes up the front steps at least twice and comes down them once. All the treads on the stairs are twelve inches and they are six and one half inches high. Most of us walk several blocks a day going up and down stairs.

Most of the Canyon High School students walk up and down the long halls twice each and some of them even more.

It was found that a half mile was the minimum distance. This would be increased if one went to his locker more than five times or if his desk was far away from the door in the class rooms. If he is the type of student who goes to the library several times in a study period and if he sits near the back of the study hall, he may walk two or three blocks just going to the library.

If the girls take a walk at noon or jump the rope that makes their number of steps greater, and if the boys go over to Stroud's they must add that to their distance. It is possible that the boys walk a block or two pitching horse shoes.

While one might get along by walking only a half mile, it is probable that every one in high school walks a mile or more every day. The marathon walkers may think they have a record but high school people are running them a close second.

Ex-Students

As we turn the pages of the Canyon High School record book, we come to the year of 1918. We find that Thelma Reid Black, and Bernie Slack are the only graduates who now live in Canyon.

Then we find that Ruth Burnett Campbell, May Slack Coffee, Irene Jones, Jack Foster, Roy Campbell, Birch Campbell, Herschel Coffee, Leslie Key and Earl Burtz graduated in 1922 and are now living in Canyon.

We find only one graduate of 1923 is living in Canyon and that one is Grace Williams.

PLAY SELECTED

"Adam and Eve," an extremely interesting comedy has been selected as the senior play of 1933. The characters have not been determined, but work will begin near the last of this month.

Only Three Presidents Have Faced Tasks Comparable to That of Roosevelt

The vital issues which confront President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, above, make his task as immense as that of any former president.

OF the 31 past presidents of the United States, probably only three have had to meet problems comparable to those of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Under President Washington the nation was created; under Lincoln it was held together, and under Wilson it became a world power. President Roosevelt faces a task at least as responsible and immense as any of these. He must solve a half-score of vital issues which beset the United States, and by so doing, aid in restoring the well-being of its citizens and its prestige in the eyes of the world.

The most serious immediate problem is that of banking. It did not need the present crisis to reveal the fact that our banking system was faulty. Since 1920, over 10,000 United States banks, with deposits of more than $3,000,000,000, have failed; many of them had collapsed during years of prosperity.

Another grave situation demanding early attention is the plight of the nation's farmers. Since 1929, our gross farm income has declined 50 per cent, while the fixed charges farmers must meet each year—taxes, mortgage debt interest, etc.—have remained.

Then there is the problem of railroads. In recent years, the earnings of United States railways have fallen still more sharply than those of farms. In the last year, for instance, only about one-fourth of the first-class railroads in the country avoided a deficit. The main reason for this sorry showing has been the business decline; a secondary cause, the sharp competition of trucks, buses and waterways.

President Roosevelt has committed himself to the gigantic and imperative task of balancing the national budget. In his first fiscal year, starting in July, the president will have an estimated government income of $2,500,000,000 to work with. But the government is committed by its present estimates to spend $3,450,000,000, aside from the amount required for the sinking fund. It is this difference of $950,000,000 which President Roosevelt must somehow eliminate if government expenditures are to match its income during his first year in office.

A MOVEMENT to inflate United States currency has gained momentum recently. Behind this drive is the theory that the more money there is the higher prices will rise, and vice versa. Three methods have been proposed: the outright issuance of new money; devaluation of the dollar (reducing its gold content from 23.22 grains to 18 or 16.5 grains), and the remonetization of silver.

At least part of our national debt must be refunded. High interest rates paid on Liberty Bonds by the government which are out of proportion to the present money market make essential a refunding operation similar to that by which England recently converted a large part of her war debt into bonds bearing a lower rate of interest.

TURNING from national to international issues, we find that the issues of tariff, war debts and security are interrelated. During the last 10 years we have been the chief creditor nation of the world; during that same period two of our tariff acts have called for the highest tariffs in the world—the Fordney act of 1922, and the Hawley-Smoot act of 1930. In the last several years, the ability of the rest of the world to pay has decreased; with it our ability to sell to the rest of the world. And high tariffs have not helped the situation at all.

President Roosevelt does not believe in war debt cancellation; he does, though, advocate tariff reduction and other co-operation on our part to aid in rehabilitating world trade, the profits from which can be used by debtor nations in paying off the war debts. Excessive armaments have hindered economic recovery and war debt adjustment, but it has been impossible to get the nations to disarm without satisfactory assurances of security. And, on the question of security, President Roosevelt must determine whether to take the United States into the World Court; he must try to have put through an amendment to the pact of Paris calling for consultation and conference in case of threatened violation of treaty, rather than a pledge of assistance in case of aggression; and he must determine the attitude of the United States in the troubled course of far eastern affairs.

Its Moving Day For Panhandle Plains Society

Its moving day for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and everything from books to buffalo robes is being transferred from the Administration building of the College to the spacious rooms of Pioneer Hall.

Indian blankets, buffalo robes, mounted animals and all objects that are subject to the attacks of moths are being scientifically treated and cleaned up preparatory to moving to their new home. Considerable time has been devoted during the past few weeks to classifying the large collection of guns which the society possesses.

Students have been engaged in the moving, reclassifying and cleaning of the relics, the occasion affording work for a number who are especially interested in museum work.

Unique Book Of Signatures Is Being Compiled

A valuable and unique addenda will be made to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum by Miss Katherine Patrick of Clarendon who is compiling a collection of signatures of those who have lived in the Panhandle since before 1900. These signatures will be bound in book form and presented to the Historical Society at the annual meeting of April 14 as a gift from the Panhandle Old Settlers Society.

The book will grow more valuable as the years go by and will be an unusual volume, affording a personal record of hundreds of pioneers who have helped to build the Panhandle.

All persons who have been in the Panhandle since before the above date, are invited to write their signatures on plain white paper and send them to Miss Patrick at Clarendon to be entered in the book.

Teachers Given Instruction In Mounting Exhibits

Virgil Dodson, president of the Randall County Teachers Association, announced Friday that the county exhibit would be held in Canyon on March 24-25 at the high school building.

Mr. Dodson stated that exhibits should be mounted on bristol board, which is for sale at the News office. He is expecting keen competition in the exhibits of the county for this year.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Despite the Cubs' Victory in 1932, Martin Opines That the Pirates Will Make Their Rivals Walk the Plank This Year

BY PHILIP MARTIN

WITH the Yankees again a favorite to win the pennant in the American League, what about the Cubs repeating in the National circuit? There, brother, is quite a subject for discussion, conjecture and debate.

It is this writer's opinion that one or possibly two other teams will outrank Charley Grimm's boys when the last out is made for the season of 1933.

The Cubs didn't have a walk-away in the older circuit last year. Close on their heels, four games behind, were those Pittsburgh Pirates. And that team is figured to rank at the top at the close of the year.

George Gibson's boys from the Smoky City caused a lot of trouble last season. Getting off to a good start, they led the league for quite a spell until they hit a slump that ran into several extra innings and left them in a position which, although they played better ball than the Cubs during the fag end of the year, was too far behind to enable them to catch up.

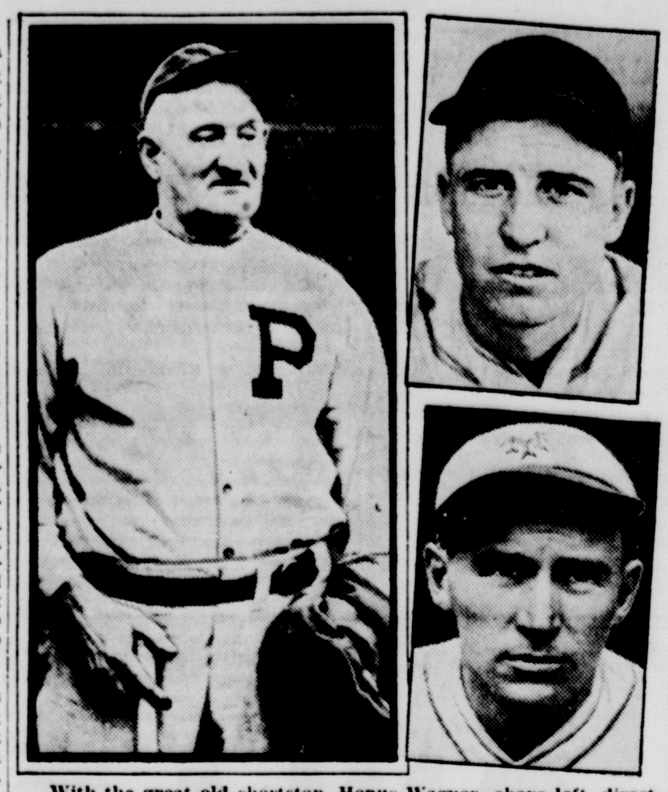
• • •

BOTH the Cubs and Pirates have stronger teams than last season. But the Pirates are just a bit stronger than the Cubs, both physically and mentally, this year.

The new Pittsburgh president, Bill Benswanger, started off his regime with the right foot by putting all his athletes in a good frame of mind. Bill didn't wield the salary-cutting ax, and he even went so far as to boost the wages of such stars as the Waner brothers, Larry French, Pie Traynor and a few others.

Then Bill and his manager, George Gibson, made some trades and purchases which are sure to bolster up the already strong Pirate attack. They engineered a deal whereby they obtained Freddy Lindstrom from the Giants. Freddy and the Waner brothers make just about the classiest outfield in the National League.

To the hurling staff has been added Waite Hoyt, Brooklyn and New York hurler, who, despite his chin whiskers, is apt to do a good turn on the hill. Two rookie hurlers, both from Tulsa, Okla., are figured to show well. They are Ralph J. Birkhofer, a southpaw, and Charley Wood, another unorthodox hurler. The former won 17 and lost 11 last year, while the latter has a record of six and four.



With the great old shortstop, Honus Wagner, above left, directing the buccaneering activities, and a big gob of hitting and fielding talent, the Pittsburgh Pirates seem destined to reap the National League pennant in their booty this year. Forrest Jensen, above right, is a hard-hitting rookie; and Freddy Lindstrom, bottom right, a classy outfielder.

An outfield rook, Forrest Jensen, who played with Newark in the International League last season, ought to set the league on fire if he continues his hitting in the major league circuit. He belted the leather for a mark of .339 last year, and that's good enough for any man's league.

ANOTHER influence which makes the Pirates look better than ever is that of old Honus Wagner, the greatest shortstop who ever lived.

After an absence of 16 years from the big leagues, the bow-legged "Flying Dutchman" has been signed to coach the Bucs. If Wagner can instill just half his baseball knowledge and playing spirit into this year's Pirate crew the National League pennant is as good as tacked to the flagpole in Forbes Field.

• • •

THE other teams that are figured to give the Cubs a run for their money are the Cards and the Giants. But the success of the former depends on how much rejuvenation Gabby Street can do with the championship team of 1931 that slipped so badly last season, and that of the latter hinges on the generalship of Bill Terry.

And the Reds will be right in there, too.

Creek at Canyon Club Cleaned Up for Stock of Fish

Headed by S. H. Condron, many members of the Canyon City Club have been doing work along the creek of the club, trimming the trees and clearing away the weeds preparatory to receiving a large shipment of fish to be placed in the creek. The State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission is providing the necessary fish for re-stocking the creek.

Mr. Condron states that about two miles of creek is in the club grounds. Three dams hold the water so that it is from 6 to 9 feet deep in many places. Living water exists along the entire stretch of the creek, and the fishing holes are said to be among the best in this section.

In addition to clearing away the brush and weeds, picnic tables are being built at various places along the creek by members of the club.

Hud Prichard is devoting a great deal of time in trimming trees around the club house and other places on the club property. He started out to spend at least 40 hours in this work of beautifying the club grounds. Other members have joined in donating time to this work.

Demo Leaders Ask Colleges Be Retained

The following were the resolutions presented by Harwood Beville of Amarillo, W. L. Boyles of Panhandle, T. R. Greenfield of Post and B. F. Hobson of Paducah, and unanimously adopted by the organization:

Whereas, the Chairman of the Democratic County Executive Committes of the 18th Congressional District of Texas believe that economies in state government at this time are vital and desirable, within the limits of good judgment and reason, but

Whereas, the Legislative Committee on Efficiency and Economy has, in our opinion, gone beyond these bounds in urging abandonment of the West Texas State Teachers College of Canyon and of the specific functions for which Texas Technological College of Lubbock was founded, and

Whereas, we believe these institutions of higher learning have served the people of this vast area with efficiency and laudable effectiveness; that they represent a just return to our people based on the taxes which this section pays; that this region served by them is as big as many states and through its oil, natural gas, manufacturing and agricultural resources is enjoying a population increase which demands a parallel expansion of its educational facilities; that these institutions are only ones of higher learning situated so as to serve economically the young people of this section; that the West Texas State Teachers College has brilliantly justified its existence since 1910 by reason of having furnished leadership, trained teachers, and graduates of general education; that Texas Technological College is enjoying exceptional growth since its establishment; that the standing and service of these institutions is a matter of pride and the source of gratitude to all acquainted with the true facts; and

Whereas, these institutions have already made substantial economies and have shown an admirable willingness to continue to serve their big enrollments as economically as any educational bodies in this state, and

Whereas, we believe a continuation of their fundamental functions and perpetuation of the opportunities they offer for general education of the young folk of West Texas is essential to the welfare of this section, now therefore,

Be It Resolved, that this body express its disapproval of the report of the Committee on Efficiency and Economy as affecting these West Texas institutions of learning, and recommend to our legislators that they oppose with all their resources any plan to take from the students of this section the educational opportunities guaranteed by the Texas constitution and merited by the expansion of West Texas and the taxes paid by her citizens.

Whereas, the Chairmen of the Democratic Executive Committees of the 18th Congressional District of Texas are assembled at Canyon, Texas, this 14th day of March, 1933, for the purpose of forming a closer association of the chosen Democratic leaders in our counties, now therefore

Be It Resolved, that we again pledge our faith to the Democratic party, and renew our allegiances to those leaders, state and national, who are so ably leading us from this period of economic distress which has enveloped the nations of the earth for the past year; and further

Be It Resolved, that we pledge our faith to our Democratic governor, Miriam A. Ferguson, who is directing so ably the affairs of State, and who is working in accord with the legislature for the upbuilding of our affairs of State in order that all departments of government may emerge from the present crisis better prepared to serve the people of Texas; and further

Be It Resolved, that to President Roosevelt and Vice-President Garner and the Democratic leaders in Congress that we renew our faith in the Democratic principles which are so ably exemplified through our national leaders. That we extend to our congressional leaders hearty congratulations in vesting extraordinary powers in that great fearless leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt, in order that he may quickly lead this nation back to a state of normalcy. That we pledge our faith in the President, in his ability, directness of purpose, and determination to restore our people to peace and prosperity which were enjoyed under the previous leadership of that great democrat, Woodrow Wilson. That we approve his messages to congress and his messages to American people, which have for their object the restoration of confidence in America and American ideals. We recommend to the people of this territory that they heed the wisdom of our President and follow his wisdom in dealing with public questions. We recommend to our members in the congress that they continue the wise policy of following the leadership of President Roosevelt.

Study Club To Launch Story Hour Saturday

A new child welfare project is being launched Saturday by the members of the Junior Woman's club in the form of a story hour for children which will be conducted by a member of the club from 3 to 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the basement of the Christian Church.

It is planned to make this hour a weekly feature, says Mrs. Carl Scott, president of the club, and thereby to interest children of all ages in stories and story telling. There will be only one group at the initial meeting but, if attendance and interest merit, more groups may be organized later on in order to reach children in a wider range of ages.

Mothers of the city are invited to leave their children at the church during this hour Saturday and let them get acquainted with the project and the leader. The hour will also afford the mothers time in which to do their shopping on Saturday afternoons.
